Redundancy Policy

General

We will do everything we can to avoid the need for redundancies. If, however the prospect arises we will consider measures such as non-filling of posts, minimising overtime working, considering the number of temporary employees on the payroll and other related strategies. How successful these may be will depend on the particular business challenges we may be facing. As a general principle we are happy that you be accompanied by a trade union representative or a workplace colleague at any of the formal stages set out below. If you do come to be under notice of redundancy, we will do all we can to assist you in looking for other work.

Consultation

- By law we are required to consult whenever we propose to make staff redundant
- Our consultation process will involve our setting out the reasons for redundancy; the number and type of posts affected; details of how we propose to select employees who are to be made redundant; and any information on the method of dismissal and any redundancy payments that will be made. We will also make available any other reasonable information that is asked of us during the consultation period
- We will consult with those affected individually
- If you are selected for redundancy any period of notice (or payment in lieu) that you are entitled to is not affected or reduced as a result of us having ran the consultation period

Selection for Redundancy

- We will firstly seek any volunteers and if any employees come forward from an area of surplus capacity, we may consider this. Fair Deal will consider all requests for voluntary redundancy but is under no obligation to agree to such a request
- Beyond this we will set out our criteria for selection relative to whatever business situation we are facing at the time (this may have been one of the matters that featured in our consultation period at any event) with a view to maintaining a balanced workforce for the future
- If you are ultimately selected for redundancy, we will explain this to you at a formal meeting
- At this formal meeting we will also give you the redundancy notice along with a letter outlining your right to appeal against selection for redundancy

Appeals

- You must raise your appeal, in writing, within 5 days of receiving your redundancy notice (the letter we will have given you with your notice or redundancy will explain how you should do this)
- Appeals will be heard by members of the Board within the following 7 days if possible and we will write to you within a further 7 days confirming our final decision

Alternative Work & Trial Periods

- If we can offer you a suitable alternative job instead of redundancy, we will do so

- We will make any such offer to you before the dismissal for redundancy takes place and will ensure that such alternative work takes effect within 4 weeks of the dismissal date
- Where we offer an alternative post on a lower grade, we will not offer salary protection
- If our offer of an alternative position involves a different type of work, or different terms of employment, you can take a 4-week trial, before deciding whether or not to accept it
- If either you or we give notice to terminate the employment contract during this trial period, you are still entitled to a redundancy payment
- If, however you unreasonably reject an offer of suitable alternative employment we make then you will lose your right to a redundancy payment
